NIPER portal, a boon for MSMEs

AAT News Service

RESEARCH and development is one of the crucial pillars for a country's economy. "We need to harness this energy of aspirations of all stakeholders and create a holistic ecosystem. Our expertise in generics can also be further expanded to other sectors," said Mansukh Mandaviya, Union Minister for Chemicals and Fertilisers.

The portal aims to disseminate information about all National Institutes of Pharmaceutical Education and Research, their activities, patents filed and publication information at one place so that industry and other stakeholders know about them

Launching the National Institute of Pharmaceutical Education and Research (NIPER) portal<http://nipermis.pharmaceuticals.gov.in/>, Mr Mandaviya said the portal has been created with the aim to disseminate information about all NIPERs and their research activities, patents filed and publication information at one place so that industry and other stakeholders know about them.

Pointing towards the importance of healthy competition both in industry and academia, the minister noted that "competition and demand is a necessity of research and innovation as this promotes quality ideas and solutions for our citizens. Research and innovation is a necessity for the sustained growth of pharmaceuticals sector".

"The country has young talent and human resources, but we need to channelise them effectively through industry-academia co-operation. To enhance this collaboration, the Department of Pharmaceuticals has created this portal to capture the research activities of all NIPERs. It would help us in promoting this synergy and would be a boon for our industries, especially the MSME sector," said Mr Mandaviya.

"India is the third-largest pharmaceutical manufacturing country and our vaccine development story is an example of effective co-operation among stakeholders. The government is committed to promote research and innovation and this portal is a step in that direction," said Bhagwanth Khuba, Union Minister of State for Chemicals and Fertilisers.

NIPERs have played an important role in country's health ecosystem. The Central government should streamline the funding pipeline and expedite the budgets allocated, and the industry should provide support like the NIPERs research fund for priority areas. NIPERs should create a vibrant scientific community by engaging with stakeholders and mobilising ideas of the young generation, promoting academic autonomy and delivering on their research goals, said V K Paul, Member (Health, Nutrition and HRD), Niti Aayog.

Accentuating the importance of NIPER's Research Programme, which focusses on the needs of the hour, the Secretary, Department of Pharmaceuticals, S Aparna said "the importance of research and innovation has never been more important and more apparent than in the last two years of the global pandemic. We have seen the need for new drugs, repurposed drugs, safer drugs, more efficacious drugs and the most affordable drugs to help mankind. The portal will promote research work that is more relevant to the current evolving need of the sector and the requirements of the patient community.

"The purpose of this portal is to authenticate availability of the research work that is ongoing. It will help other researchers and especially the industry to get in touch with the relevant organisation so that they can work together and make the research more purposeful and meaningful. For long, research institutes have been working in isolation. The research portal will try to bring together research institutions spread across different departments within government and also these institutions with industries."

The Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilisers asked all relevant research institutions like the Departments of Biotechnology, Scientific and Industrial Research; Ministry of AYUSH; Indian Council of Medical Research; and Defence Research and Development Organisation, where a lot of pharmaceuticals sector-related research takes place to join this portal.

Nod for India-ASEAN Digital Work Plan at ministers' meet

AAT News Service

INFORMATION and communication technologies (ICTs) enable and strengthen democratic systems and institutions through enhanced engagement between citizens and the state. Use of ICTs promote free speech, human rights and free flow of information, besides expanding citizens' opportunities to participate in decision-making process. ICTs have potential to transform lives of people in rural areas, said Devusinh Chauhan, Minister of State for Communications.

Addressing the second ASEAN Digital Ministers' (ADGMIN) Meeting virtually, co-chaired by Admiral Tin Aung San, Myanmar's Minister for Transport and Communications, Mr Chauhan said different technological solutions are being leveraged for development of the nation. The Covid-19 pandemic is not only a challenge for the public health system, but is also shaking the economic and social orders of the countries. In this scenario, ICTs have emerged as powerful tool to mitigate the effects of pandemic in different spheres of public life and they are foundations of the global economy.

During the meeting, India and ASEAN nations have approved a work plan titled, 'India-ASEAN Digital Work Plan 2022'. The workplan, includes system for combating the use of stolen and counterfeit mobile handsets, wi-fi access network interface for nationwide public internet, capacity building and knowledge sharing in emerging areas in the field of ICTs such as Internet of Things (IoTs), 5G, advanced satellite communication, cyber forensics etc.

The ongoing and proposed projects in ICTs will strengthen collaboration between India and ASEAN by leveraging complementary strengths of each other.

Electronic goods exports up 49 per cent in FY20-21

AAT News Service

INDIA's electronic goods exports registered a growth of 49 per cent to $11 billion (provisional) during FY2020-21 as against $7.4 billion of the previous year. The top five export destinations are US (18 per cent share), UAE (16.6 per cent), China (7.6 per cent), the Netherlands (4.5 per cent) and Germany (4.2 per cent).

Top five export destinations are US, UAE, China, Netherlands and Germany. With $11 billion exports achieved in the first three quarters of FY2021-22, the sector is set to break all-time record highs, far exceeding the previous high of $11.7 billion recorded in FY2019-20

Mobile phones constitute a major chunk of country's electronics goods sector exports. The sector, includes IT hardware (laptops, tablets), consumer electronics (TV and audio), industrial electronics, auto electronics, electronic components, LED lighting, strategic electronics, printed circuit board assembly, wearables and hearables, and telecom equipment.

The overall exports of electronics goods in FY2020-21 was $11.11 billion, and with $11 billion exports achieved in the first three quarters of FY2021-22, the sector is set to break all-time record highs, far exceeding the previous high of $11.7 billion recorded in FY2019-20.

The Central government has taken various steps to increase the domestic manufacturing and export of electronics goods, including mobile phones. The steps, include formulation of production linked incentive schemes for large-scale electronics manufacturing and IT hardware; scheme for promotion of manufacturing of electronic components and semiconductors; and modified electronics manufacturing clusters under the National Policy on Electronics, 2019, which envisages to position India as a global hub for electronics, system design and manufacturing.

Moreover, the government has permitted up to 100 per cent foreign direct investment under the automatic route for electronics manufacturing, subject to applicable laws. Phased manufacturing programme has been notified to promote domestic value addition in mobile phones and their sub-assemblies/parts manufacturing. Tariff structure has also been rationalised to promote domestic manufacturing of electronic goods, including cellular mobile phones.

The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology also released the second volume of a five-year roadmap and vision document for the electronics sector. The document lays the roadmap to transform India into a $300-billion electronics manufacturing powerhouse over the next five years, from the current $75 billion. The electronic goods exports are expected to increase to $120 billion by 2026 from the projected $15 billion in 2021-22.

India, Israel to enhance co-op in agri sec

AAT News Service

OVER 150 villages in the country around the Centers of Excellence (CoEs) will be converted into Villages of Excellence with technical assistance from Israel, out of which 75 villages are being taken up in the first year to commemorate the 75th year of India's independence where India and Israel will work together.

Twenty-nine CoEs in 12 states are producing more than 25 million vegetable plants, over 3.87 lakh quality fruit plants and can train more than 1.2 lakh farmers per year, said Narendra Singh Tomar, Union Minister for Agriculture and Farmers Welfare.

Welcoming the Israeli Ambassador Naor Gilon to India, Mr Tomar expressed happiness on the completion of 30 years of diplomatic relations with Israel. The Central government has launched various schemes for the welfare of farmers, including PM-Kisan, Agri-Infrastructure Fund, formation of 10,000 farmer producer organisations (FPOs), schemes for promotion of organic farming, natural farming, soil health cards etc.

Expressing satisfaction over the functioning of the CoEs, Mr Gilon said "these CoEs are a great example of co-operation between the two countries. We will further collaborate with Indian Agricultural Research Institute (ICAR) and make available the latest technologies available with us. The CoEs should be given certificates so as to further enhance the standards and quality of services being provided to the farmers".
